

HARTMANNI

BIO:

HARTMANNI is an artist for a new generation. He grew up in a family of musicians in the country of Albania and saw how music could transcend race, language, religion, and gender and bring people together in a positive way. He has been able to craft his own sound from the many influences that inspired him, such as John Mayer, Eric Johnson, Coldplay, Bryan Adams, and Queen. With his love of storytelling, along with soaring guitar solos, and his powerful vocals, HARTMANNI is dedicated to bringing something fresh and unique to the music industry. HARTMANNI loves to explore genres, but he has developed over the years into a pop/rock/blues artist. Having lived in Los Angeles and now Dallas has given him the opportunity to perform with many artists such as Drake's music director Adrian X. HARTMANNI is passionate about bringing all peoples together and being a light in the face of darkness.
